THE LAW THAT ILLINOIS NEEDS.

Racing men, bookmakers, track owners and the daily newspapers are the worst enemies of racing. Racing men and track owners do their worst through the avenues of self seeking, bookmakers along the lines of jealousy and verbal defacement of the sport when their plans go awry, and the newspapers by the publication of slap dash rumors that are untrue to the average of about eighty per cent. Influential public opinion, so called, but really the prejudiced opinion of carelessness growing from the busy good citizen's misinformation out of the newspaper he reads, has been a powerful factor against the horse industry of Illinois. But the acts and verbosity of interested or disappointed operators in various turf lines have done most of the damage.

Illinois suffers most nowadays. There is a vast amount of money invested in breeding farms, racetracks and racing stables in this state. The industry is not confined to one section. It is broad and general. The men engaged in it can be favorably compared with those of any other business in Illinois. A few operators in the large cities have run against the laws of the state and their offense has injured the good folks—less active in a public way—but who are honestly doing their business in accord with the law. The fault of the few has caused the many horse breeders and owners to be punished most severely. The best evidence of the pinch is shown by the prices of horses—which have fallen off some 40 per cent. in the last five years.

It seems as if broad public opinion now favors a racing law. But the same public opinion does not lean toward betting, although betting is hardly separable from racing contention. Public opinion would lean more kindly toward less public betting. A strong and high-class effort through the courts would probably give betting on racing contests the legal stamp that has been given it by the courts of Great Britain, France and other countries in Europe. The present legislature of Illinois would be likely to pass a racing law if the proper measure was laid before it. Such a measure could be put into one hundred words. It need only name a season; say from May 1 or 15, to October 15 or November 1, of each year and set aside so many days for each association—limiting the associations to what is considered the public need. A tax should be paid—to certain state funds, based upon the gross receipts at the gate of each association, the tax graded into one or more classes. For cities of one million or over, mile tracks should be made necessary with a tax of 5 per cent., divided between one or two state funds devoted to agricultural interests.

Illinois is a peculiar state in the matter of its cities. Chicago is more to the state than Paris is to France. There is not another city in the state with 100,000 inhabitants. Peoria is second with some 75,000. It is not just to tax the annual harness horse or mixed gait meetings of such towns. They usually last but three or four days. In most, the agricultural societies of their county, would be benefitted by the tax. If there were cities of 250,000 population in the state the measure regulating racing should provide a second class for them, with a tax of two and a half or three per cent. on gross receipts.

It might be well to make such a class for associations in towns adjacent to cities of other states likely to be drawn upon for race meetings—East St. Louis for instance. In no case should any part of the moneys derived from racing taxation be allowed to go to any state fund that in any way defrays, or helps to defray, the expense of criminality. The tax even from Chicago tracks alone would give the state a large annual sum.

But before any measure is sent to the legislature the track owners of the various sections of the state should agree. After agreement the proposed law should be put on paper in as few and as plain words as possible. It need say nothing about betting. It should then be laid before the House or the Senate by a member who is above suspicion. The measure should not be supported by a lobby or a bribery fund. It could well be backed by the endorsement of a few high class business men of the best cities and localities of the state. Such a bill would invite attention, could be intelligently discussed and would have an excellent chance of becoming a law. Why not try such a plan?

There are local rumors about a locally drawn bill of relief that is to be introduced into the Senate within a few days. It is said to provide for thirty-day terms of racing and the legalization of betting by amending section 127 of the criminal code—which is definitive of common gambling. The amendment is said to be a declaration that section 127 shall not be construed to include betting upon racetracks within the state over races in progress thereon. Such a bill is not likely to meet with enough favor to pass both houses, though its provisions are but fair to an industry that has been most unjustly punished.

The Kettering bill introduced in the House yesterday seems too sweeping a measure to meet the approval of both legislative bodies.

THE THREE-YEAR-OLD FILLIES.

If the good fillies that cropped up as two-year-olds in 1898 perform this year up to their average form of last season it seems reasonable to conclude they will be unusually prominent factors in the turf operations of the year. Examination of the records will show that, despite the prevailing prejudice against their sex as racing factors and the comparatively less number trained, the fillies held their own against the colts nobly. Many of the best exhibitions of speed, gameness, ability to carry weight, to negotiate any kind of going and to cover any distance incident to the two-year-old racing of last year stand to the credit of the fillies. It will probably develop, too, that the number of high-class ones was exceptionally large.

Mr. Thomas C. McDowell was fortunate enough to own two of the best, if indeed he did not possess the best of her sex and age in the splendid filly Spirituelle. This great daughter of the American Derby winner Spokane and Narka ran in sixteen races, of which she won eleven and was second in five. Two of her defeats were inflicted by that good but not consistent colt Jolly Roger, and another by the crack colt Kentucky Colonel. The flying Toluca beat her at Washington Park, but she had up 118 pounds to Toluca's 108 and The Kentuckian, now being boomed to do great things this year, was nowhere, carrying only 100 pounds at that. Marvelously fast on fast going, she was equally at home in mud of any quality, and altogether justified her well established reputation of being one of the best young mares seen in many years.

One thing can be said of the high class fillies of last year and that is that they were mostly the property of western owners. Outside of Whiplash and perhaps Lady Lindsay it is questionable if any of the eastern owned fillies could have held their own at equal weights with Spirituelle, Espionage, Black Venus, Matanza, Toluca, Satin Slipper, Rush, Miss Marion or Jinks. Rush was Mr. McDowell's other crack filly. She came out at Newport and won four straight races before taking defeat, then running fourth to Toluca, Olinthus and The Kentuckian at Harlem. In all Rush started in thirteen races of which she won eight and was second in three. Twice she beat Jolly Roger, once on a dry track and once in mud. Formero, Canace, Theory, Souchon, Tulla Fonso, Jinks and other good ones succumbed to her at one time and another. Rush is a bay, by Wadsorth—Reine d'Or.

One of the first flight fillies of the year was Black Venus, by Kantaka—Queenie. She raced as the property of Mrs. E. O. Pepper, and was sold at the end of the season to Mr. W. C. Whitney. She started in seventeen races, of which she won nine, was second in three, and third in two. Her speed was remarkable. At Washington Park with 118 up she beat Souchon, 110, Toluca, 115, and six other fast ones five furlongs in 1:00. At Sheepshead Bay, 113 pounds, she won the Great Eastern Handicap, doing the Futurity Course in such phenomenal time as 1:09 1/2, with Ethelbert, Martimas, Manuel, Dr. Eichberg, Ways and Means, Autumn, Glenheim and other cracks well in the rear. This was a very great race. At the same track she gave weight and an easy beating to all the best fillies of the east in the Belles Stakes, Prestidigitatrix, Lady Lindsay, High Degree and Whiplash being in the field. A stable companion of Black Venus was Satin Slipper, by Kingston—Lady Styliates. She, too, was a performer of great speed and quality. Of her ten races she won seven and was second in two. Toluca beat her in her last start of the year for the Silver Brook Stakes, five and a half furlongs, at Morris Park, but she had to step the distance in 1:06 1/2 to do it. Shortly before she had won the Hurricane Stakes at five furlongs in a minute flat. She beat good field for the Flatlands Stakes at Brooklyn. Most of her races were with moderate weights up and most of them were exceedingly fast.

Matanza may have been as good as any filly out last year. She started in ten races and won six. There was no compromise with her. She either won or was one of the "also ran."

By Hanover—The Niece, she proved herself a high class filly by taking up 119 pounds at Saratoga and easily beating Kinley Mack, Manuel, Martimas, Kentucky Colonel, Frohsinn, Galahad and Lady Lindsay for the $4,000 Grand Union Hotel Stakes, over a track deep with mud. At the same place, track good, she beat Rhinelander, Kentucky Colonel, Kinley Mack and The Bouncer for the Pepper Stakes. Nobody could dispute the merit of such performances. She won two stakes at Brighton Beach also but the class of her opposition was not so good as in the two Saratoga events. Her speed is of the highest order. Any track suits her and she should rank high this year if all goes well with her in training.

It is hard to estimate Louis Ezell's Espionage, but this daughter of Inspector B. and Sun Maid was certainly a great filly last year. She had such a grueling campaign, however, that it would hardly be reasonable to expect much of her this year. Still, she won the California Oaks a short time back and it may be that she is one of the tribe of "iron" horses that go on racing well under treatment that would send weaker ones to the bone yard. Last year she started in thirty-six races and won twenty, besides being six times second and twice third. Three-quarters in 1:14, five and a half furlongs in 1:07 1/2, with good weight up, are samples of her average speed always on tap. Gently handled and raced only when on edge, there is no telling what high fame this filly might have attained.

The California-bred filly, Toluca, by Nomad-Sweet, abundantly proved herself one of the

A RACING BILL TURNS UP.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., February 23.—Representative A. J. Kettering, of Chicago, today introduced a racing bill in the House. Speaker Sherman referred the measure to the Committee on miscellaneous subjects, which is likely to report favorably upon it. The bill reads as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the people of the State of Illinois, represented in the general assembly, that an act entitled "An act for the assessment of property, and for the levy and collection of taxes," be and the same is hereby amended as follows:

Sec. 2. That every person, firm or corporation, owning or conducting an inclosure wherein meetings are held for the trial of the strength or speed of horses, and wherein pools are bought and sold, or books or wagers made thereon, if any such meeting shall be held within twenty-five miles of any city containing a population of 100,000 or over, shall pay to the State of Illinois a tax of 5 per centum of the gross gate receipts for admission of persons upon and for each and every day that any such meeting may be held within any such inclosure, and if any such meeting shall be held within five miles of a city containing less than 100,000 and not less than 10,000 population, the tax to be paid shall be 3 per centum of the gross gate receipts, and in all other cases the tax to be paid shall be 2 per centum upon the gross gate receipts, such tax to be paid to the county treasurer of the county in which such inclosure is located on the Monday next after any such meeting shall be held. Such county treasurer shall give duplicate receipts therefor, one of which receipts shall be by such person, firm or corporation sent forth by mail to the state treasurer of the State of Illinois, and said county treasurer shall, within ten days after receipt thereof, remit such sum or sums so received by him to said state treasurer, less the per centum thereof allowed to him by law for making collections of other taxes.

Sec. 3. The State of Illinois is hereby declared to have a valid and first lien upon all the real and personal property of the person, firm or corporation who may own or control the inclosure where any such meeting shall be held, to secure the full payment of such taxes, which lien may be enforced the same as other liens for taxes.

Sec. 4. All meetings provided for in this act may be held between the first days of May and November in any year and between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 7 o'clock in the afternoon and at no other time or times; provided, however, that the total number of days shall not exceed sixty in any one year on which meetings shall be held within any one inclosure.

Sec. 5. At and during the time of any such meeting it shall be lawful to make books or wagers and buy and sell pools within any such inclosure upon the result of the trial of the strength or speed of horses to be actually had upon and within such inclosure during the meeting then being held, but not at any other time or place.

Sec. 6. Any person, firm or corporation who shall, as agent or otherwise, directly or indirectly, permit books or wagers to be made or pools to be bought or sold, otherwise than as in this act is provided, shall forfeit and pay to the State of Illinois not less than $500 nor more than $1,000 for each offense, to be collected by suit in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

Sec. 7. Any person, firm or corporation who shall fail to pay the tax imposed by this act shall forfeit and pay to the State of Illinois the sum of $500 for each day that such tax shall remain due and unpaid, the same to be collected by suit in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

Sec. 8. All acts and parts of acts so far as the same are in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

It is a coincidence that the declarations from the Brooklyn and Suburban Handicaps were equal, five from each, Miss Marion, Lambert and Voter from both races, while the odd ones were George Boyd and Boney Boy from the Suburban and Charentus and Briar Sweet from the Brooklyn. Eastern critics take Briar Sweet's declaration from the Brooklyn to mean that she will be given an exceedingly careful preparation for the Suburban.

YEARLY RACING FORM.

Those who want the yearly edition of DAILY RACING FORM's charts had better order early. There are not more than thirty of the edition unsold. Yearly Racing Form is in two volumes, bound in soft morocco with a hard-leaf lettered index on linen paper. Volume I. includes the racing from January 1 to June 30. Volume II. from July 1 to December 31. The two books cost $20.

THE THREE-YEAR-OLD FILLIES.

fastest of the year. Carrying 108 pounds, she beat Spirituelle, 118; Canace, 95; Batten, 104; Ailyar, 115, The Kentuckian, 100, and three others, at Washington Park, six furlongs in 1:44, and a few days later, with 110 up, won the rich Hyde Park Stakes in 1:44, defeating Jolly Roger, 118; W. Overton, 121; Formero, 113; Kentucky Colonel, 113, and King Barleycorn, 116, good form enough for anybody's filly in any year. She ran in twenty-four races last year and was twenty times "in the money," with nine times first, four times second and seven times third. Tolucca is one of the stars that will shine in the Whitney stable this year, and a bright one she is.

These were all about as good fillies as ever were seen out in any one year and yet they were not much better than Lady Lindsay with her eleven wins in twenty-four starts, or Jinks, Miss Marion, High Degree, Guess Me and Maud Ferguson, to say nothing of the possibilities of the unbeaten May Hempstead. And then only a little below these in rank were Souchon, Diminutive, Pearl Barnes, Tulla Fonso, Canace, Glasnevin, Josephine B. and others that might be named. Fillies are proverbially uncertain racers in the spring and early summer, but allowing for all contingencies it seems now that with so much good material in sight the races of the year for fillies will be invested with a higher degree of interest than has been the case for a number of seasons past, to say nothing of their chances in competition with the colts.
